

Apr 2026 Newsletter

Leading with a spring in our step!

Welcome to The Youth Mentoring Lab's monthly training newsletter, where we share up and coming training and the latest insights from our evidence-based practice.

April brings a new opportunity to complete the new year's resolutions still lingering from the new year. And it's also a time to refresh our learning.

To remember that Youth mentoring isn't a soft skill or project add-on.

It's a rigorous multidisciplinary practice drawing from psychology, sociology, coaching, safeguarding, and youth development theory.

It requires specialised training, evidence-based tools, ethical frameworks, and continuous professional development. Treating it as anything less undermines both practitioners and the young people we serve.

Unmatched Knowledge. Accessible Essential Training

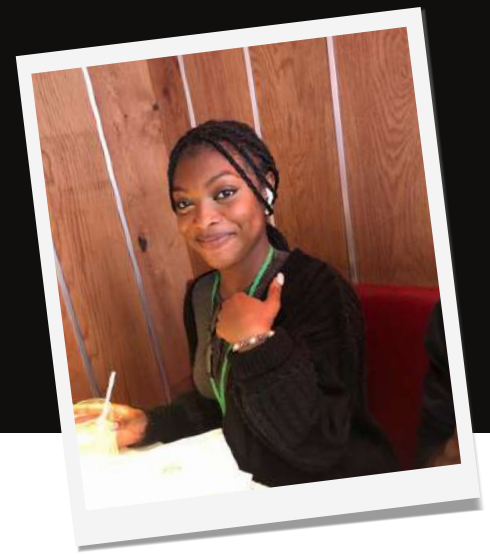

More than just tick box training. Our trainers are practising mentors working in schools, the criminal justice system, the business. As such, we've made our CPD accredited Youth Mentoring training accessible to all, including not-for-profit and voluntary organisations working with young people from underserved, marginalised backgrounds and those very communities most vulnerable.

What our training offers

- ✔ Professional Recognition - CPD accredited certifications employers value
- ✔ Affordable Payment Options - Quality training that doesn't break your budget
- ✔ Help into Work - Direct pathways into the youth mentoring across sectors
- ✔ Bite-Size After Work Courses - Perfect for busy people
- ✔ Training Solutions - Upskill on your own or with your entire organisation
- ✔ 0% Finance Monthly Payment Plans - Spread the cost over 6 months.

We train organisations and professionals from across the education, social care, youth, criminal justice housing and private sector, in the UK, Europe, Africa and the Caribbean.

YOUR PERSONAL NETWORK

How to use this tool

1. Look at the meaning of each coloured zone.
2. Think of the people in your life
3. Using their initials, place them in the correct zone
4. Reflect on, and explore, how you can reduce any barriers to your progression that may be impacted by the people who fall in the orange, red and blue zones.

- Friends and family you feel safe around and can trust
- Friends and family that give good advice and you can sometimes share feelings
- Friends and family you can not share feelings with, they are just there for friendliness and fun times
- Friends and family you can not trust and negatively impact your behaviour
- Friends and family that have a negative effect on your mood makes you feel sad, anxious or nervous.
